

Media Writing (SS 233/ENG 2112)*Credit Hours: 4Course Pre-Requisites: NoneInstructor Name: Syed Javed NazirSchedule: Monday to Friday (10.00 AM – 12.50 PM)Course Description

This course introduces students to writing for mass media. These forms include: news and feature stories, columns, editorials and articles for print and broadcast media.

Fundamentals of media writing will also survey news styles, policy and ethical issues while delivering news. Most importantly, the aim of this course is to house feminism within a local context so as to counter the debates projecting feminism a “western” concept. This course will act as a bridge between mainstream perceptions of feminism in Pakistan that tends to alienate those involved in such struggles and our true heroes who have led the feminist movements from the front line.
