Principles of Finance (ECON 261)

Credit Hours: 4

Course Anti-Requisites: FINN 100 (Principles of Finance) or FINN 200 (Intermediate Finance)

Course Pre-Requisites:

Instructor/s: Hira Saeed

Schedule: Monday to Friday (10.00 AM – 12.50 PM)

Course Description

This course is an introduction to the domain of finance. Students will be exposed to the main areas within finance at an intermediate level. These include managerial finance, corporate finance, and asset pricing. The aim of the course is to build the theoretical foundations in these areas so that students can take more advanced finance courses or make an informed decision to specialize in one of the streams. This course is also recommended for anyone who intends to pursue a career in finance, consulting, trading, investment banking or corporate management

TEACHING METHODOLOGY:

• Teaching Methodology: Synchronous.

• Lecture details: Live Zoom lectures as per schedule. Recordings of live lectures shall be made available.